

The Internship Program, Maharat,

provides a world-class development opportunity for recent Jordanian university graduates with no previous work experience, to work with private sector client firms and dedicated mentors to gain valuable first-hand practice and experience.

The Maharat Program will be set up to offer two different scenarios. The main Maharat Program “Maharat On-the-Job” will last for six months with an intern receiving a total of 156 hours worth of training courses delivered by SME managers and local or international experts in diverse areas such as financial analysis, marketing and human resource management with the inclusion of case studies, group problem solving and public speaking courses.

The second scenario however, known as “Maharat Pioneers” will focus on training interns in fields which are in great demand in the current business environment. Maharat Pioneers differs from the main Maharat in its shorter but not less intense, forty-five day duration comprised of an intensive package of highly focused and specialized training and career building courses tailor-made to fill a gap in the current lack of availability of human resources with a background in HR, PR and export management.
